

Murray Charges Big Steel Trying To Force Walkout

Steel Dispute Turns Into Battle Of Telegrams

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15—(AP)—The steel industry's contract crisis turned into a battle of telegrams today while the nation waited to see if it's going to have a countrywide strike Sept. 25.

A two-day exchange of sharply worded wires between CIO United Steelworkers President Philip Murray in Pittsburgh and U. S. Steel Corporation head Benjamin F. Fairless in New York apparently led up to a blind alley.

President Truman told a news conference he is hopeful steel negotiations will progress toward a settlement. The federal conciliation service said it had no plans at present to get labor and management together.

Wants Acceptance
Murray called on Big Steel to accept promptly the presidential board's peace pattern or take the blame for a strike. He charged the corporation is trying to force a walkout.

Fairless reiterated he will not accept the recommendations without bargaining. He told Murray the responsibility for a strike "is yours, not ours."

The union accepted the board recommendations and said it is ready to go to the conference table if steel does likewise. Fairless replied he is ready but still waiting word when the union wants to have the next meeting. Murray wants acceptance of the board report first.

The board package covering company finance and pensions. Fairless doesn't like the non-contributory angle. He argues the findings are not binding on anyone.

Base For Talks
Mr. Truman commented at his news conference that it is the general understanding the recommendations would be used as the basis for negotiations rather than an outright settlement.

Fairless told Murray his call for acceptance "is nothing more than a repetition of your dictatorial message of yesterday that we must accept your ultimatum which is both unfair and contrary to the assurance given to us in advance by the president of the United States that the recommendations of the board would not be binding on either party."

Fairless said he is still waiting word on when the union wanted to have the next meeting to study pensions and "an adequate contributory program of social insurance, toward the cost of which United States Steel will contribute up to four cents an hour as its share."

He said the responsibility of a strike "is yours, not ours," and urged the union to set a time and place for negotiations.

U.S. Grants All ERP Nations Help Given To Britain

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—The United States today extended to France and all Marshall-plan nations trade and financial concessions granted Britain to relieve her dollar crisis.

About the same time the British got formal permission from the economic cooperation to spend $175,000,000 Marshall plan money for Canadian wheat. This was one of the helping-hand ideas worked out in American-British-Canadian financial conferences last week.

Extension of similar privileges to other nations getting American recovery billions was assured at a meeting of Secretary of State Acheson with French Foreign Minister Schuman. The meeting brought together Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman and other top American and French officials.

CUBAN POLICE CHIEF AND RADIO REPORTER FIGHT WITH FISTS

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 15—(AP)—Yesterday Jose Pardo Llada, a radio commentator, said some things that irked Col. Jose Carames, the national chief of police.

Today the police chief sent for him. The chief took off his pistol and the two fought with their fists. When they got through, each signed a statement saying the other was a gentleman.

There was scarcely a mark on either of them.

6 SOLONS GO TO EUROPE

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—Six congressmen, including Rep. Peter F. Mack, (D-Ill.) left here today aboard a four-motored air force plane to make a six-week survey of government spending in Europe and the Near East.

Maryland, Louisiana Oyster Dispute Breaks Out Again

Baltimore, Sept. 15—(AP)—Embittered Marylanders rose up again today in support of their beloved oysters after another of those brickbats from New Orleans.

It was a case of here we go again. Seems as if Louisianans delight in running down Free State-oysters. For instance, there was that big goround in 1945.

Joseph M. Jurisch, a New Orleans shipper, tossed the latest Darnick. It just went to show that while oysters may be dispassionate creatures, oyster fanciers are not.

Jurisch was quoted in the New Orleans item: "The Baltimore oyster is tasteless. You can have it. 'Some dealers gyp the customers by buying Baltimore oysters cheap and dumping them in among ours in the Louisiana shipping cans. It doesn't pay off in New Orleans though, any old-timer can spot a Baltimore money miles away.'"

Replied Frederick P. Steiff, a leading Baltimore epicure and standard bearer for Maryland in the celebrated oyster controversy of four years ago:

"The proof of the oyster is in the eating. Judging by the number of Chesapeake oysters sent to New Orleans, people there must be pretty ignorant about oysters."

Other bivalve eaters responded with "preposterous," "the (jurisch) must be crazy," and similar cracks. "I wouldn't insult our customers by having a Louisiana oyster in the same kitchen," exclaimed Mrs. William Mohrman, manager of Baltimore's oldest oyster house. "The Louisiana oysters have no taste at all."

Fred Fahdt, steward at a leading Baltimore restaurant, admitted he once ate a Louisiana oyster. He can't forget it.

"It was in 1946," he said, shuddering. "I was in New Orleans, and being in the oyster business—buying them—I thought I'd try a half dozen."

An awed tone crept into his voice. "I at the first one and left the rest on the plate. You have no idea how bad they were."

Department asks that the company's big wholesale fruit and vegetable subsidy, the Atlantic Commission Co., be dissolved.

A & P stock, traded in the New York curb exchange, dropped $4.50 a share today, closing at $119. This morning the stock had opened at $123.

The A & P operates 6,000 stores across the country which last year grossed sales of nearly $3,000,000,000. "The suit is designed to eliminate the abuse by A & P of its mass buying and mass selling power," McGrath said in a statement. The complaint charged the company had used its position to "impose unreasonable restraints of trade upon competitors at all levels of the food industry from farm to table."

The A & P official said: "There is nothing even approaching monopoly here; for as every housewife knows, the retail grocery business is the most competitive in the country and we do only a small part of it. Nor was there ever any charge that we raised prices; for the whole basis of this attack is the fact that we sold good food too cheap."

"There is nothing in our operations, or in any previous court decision involving us, or in the anti-trust laws themselves to justify the dissolution of A & P."

The company was convicted under anti-trust statutes at Danville, Ill., three years ago. Early this year the criminal conviction was upheld in the U. S. court of appeals at Chicago and the A & P paid fines of $175,000.

Loyalist Forces Break Back Of Bolivian Revolt

La Paz, Bolivia, Sept. 15—(AP)—Loyalist forces broke the back of the Bolivian revolution today.

One of the rebels' last, three strongholds, Camiri, fell to an attack from without. The other Santa Cruz, fell to an attack from within.

Government sources said they expected resistance at the third center, the town of Yacubiza on the Argentine frontier, to collapse within 48 hours.

The high brass of the rebels fled by air.

Acting President Mamerto Urriolagoitia said the revolt, launched Aug. 27 by leaders of the rightist National Revolutionary Movement (MNR), "can be called ended."

A prison delivery of hundreds of loyalists jailed by the rebels opened the way for a counter revolution at Santa Cruz, a military and air center in the heart of Bolivia 350 miles southeast of La Paz.

Navy Captain Loses Post For Blasting High Defense Men

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Matthews announced tonight that Capt. John G. Crommelin, blunt critic of the defense high command, had been shifted from his post with the joint chiefs of staff because he had "disqualified" himself.

Matthews' explanation of the shift apparently over-ruled that of subordinate officials who earlier had indicated that the transfer was a pat on the back for Crommelin.

In mid-afternoon, the navy's press section announced that Crommelin had been given a post formerly held by a two-star admiral—as director of navy aviation personnel.

But a few hours later, Matthews countermanded that announcement with a statement of his own saying that Crommelin has been transferred to the office of the deputy chiefs of naval operations for air.

Matthews said Crommelin has been assigned "for duty in the air warfare division under Rear Admiral E. A. Cruise."

U. S. Files Suit To Break Up A & P Chain

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—The Justice department filed suit today to split up the huge food chain of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co.

The company called the anti-trust action "an attack on the entire system of efficient, low-cost, low-profit mass distribution." It said, "we sold good food too cheap."

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath's suit in federal district court here seeks a court order forcing A & P to divide its nationwide food store into seven independently owned retail chains.

Separation of A & P's manufacturing and food processing business from its buying and selling activities also is sought. And the department asks that the company's big wholesale fruit and vegetable subsidy, the Atlantic Commission Co., be dissolved.

A & P stock, traded in the New York curb exchange, dropped $4.50 a share today, closing at $119. This morning the stock had opened at $123.

Dirksen Hits ERP As Douglas Defends It In Quincy Duel

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—Republican Everett Dirksen blasted the European recovery program tonight as "like the blind leading the blind," but Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) defended ERP.

Dirksen, looked upon as a probable GOP contender in 1950 for the Senate seat of Democratic majority leader Scott Lucas of Illinois, declared:

"Let's quit placing Marshall plan mustards on a political ulcer that calls for the knife."

But Douglas, who debated the recovery program with Dirksen, contended that improvements "cannot be produced overnight."

He said the Marshall plan has saved Europe from communism, "provided a market for (U.S.) farm and factory goods, prevented a disastrous fall in the prices of farm products and has built up employment during a period of recession."

Douglas said that when ERP was put through congress many of its opponents contended it "would be like pouring money down a sink. This year, it was said, it is working so well it is no longer needed."

500 IHC Employees Strike Over Job Transfer Dispute

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—Nearly 500 International Harvester company employees stopped work today in a dispute over job transfers.

The stoppage occurred at the company's tractor works at 2600 West 31st street. Most of the workers participating are members of the CIO United Farm Equipment workers.

A company spokesman said cutbacks in production necessitated layoffs and transfers and that the workers protested that the company had not abided by seniority provisions of the contract.

Plant officials said negotiations on the issue were impossible while the work stoppage continued. The contract, they said, provides for resumption of work before conferences can begin.

Peoria Bus Drivers Told Company Can Not Raise Salaries

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—Peoria bus drivers have been advised they will not get the wage boost and retroactive pay the Peoria Transportation company promised them effective Oct. 1.

A notice posted in the bus garage said the company is unable to fulfill its agreement because of lack of revenue from present fare rates.

Ira Lamorde, vice president of the Peoria unit, AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, said the company "must pay" but didn't indicate what steps would be taken.

The drivers were slated to get a boost of seven cents hourly from $4.25 to Oct. 1, on a retroactive basis, and an additional four cents hourly effective Oct. 1. The present scale is $1.37 hourly.

HOBBS NAMED TO BOARD OF EDUCATION

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—Appointment of John W. Hobbs of Springfield as a member of the state board of vocational education was announced today by Governor Stevenson.

Hobbs, prominent industrialist here, fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Circuit Judge Ray Sesler of Pontiac.

Circuit Judge S. Minton Named To Supreme Court

Truman Sees Little Significance In GOP Victory In Pennsylvania

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—President Truman indicated today he sees little 1950 significance in the Republican victory in a Pennsylvania congressional contest.

Republican John P. Saylor won over Democrat Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., to fill out the term of Democrat Rep. Robert L. Coffey, Jr., killed in a plane crash last April.

Republicans called the result a "stinging rebuke" to Mr. Truman's domestic policies and a favorable GOP harbinger for next year's congressional elections.

The president told his news conference today that back in 1947 he had the same sort of barometer and it didn't work out. Remember, Democrats won back control of senate and house from the Republicans last November.

Mr. Truman did not say what special election he might have had in mind in 1947. Records show there were eight such elections that year and none of them brought a major party turnover.

The only change from one party to another was the capture of the 24th New York district seat by Leo Isacson, American Laborite. The seat formerly was held by a Democrat.

Saylor's triumph increased the hopes of Republican strategists that "statism" will be a winning battle cry for them next year. Mr. Truman has called this simply a scare-word which the people will ignore as he said they did last November.

He was asked today to comment on the definition of "statism" by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) He said he hadn't seen it, but if Wherry had one it was one more to add to the different versions in current dictionaries.

The Republican floor leader said recently: "Statism is government control of the affairs and activities of the people in contrast to our Republican form of government under which the government is the servant and not the master of the people."

Yugo Charges Russ Put Hungary Up To 'Phony' Spy Trial

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 15—(AP)—Yugoslavia loosed a bitter new attack tonight on Soviet Russia, charging that a Hungarian treason trial was a phony device set up by Russia for an "unbridled witch-hunt" against Premier Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government.

A 5,000-word document assailed the leaders of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Communist party as applying pressure, threats and blackmail in the campaign.

It said Russia had "been forced to take upon itself as a government, publicly and openly before the entire world, the role of the chief assailant against the federated People's Republic of Yugoslavia." It declared, however, the campaign as a fiasco.

Meanwhile nine persons accused of spying for the Hungarian government in Yugoslavia were given prison sentences ranging from three to 18 years. They were tried and convicted by a peoples' court at Novi Sad, center of Yugoslavia's bread basket.

$1,000,000 Diesel Plant Destroyed By Blast; 2 Killed

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 15—(AP)—A shattering blast wrecked a diesel electric generating plant today and killed two workers.

The explosion wrecked the $1,000,000 plant of the Southeastern Indiana Electric Co., on the east edge of the city and cut off electric power to 8,500 customers in 11 counties.

Emergency crews hoped to have service restored from another company in the same area by nightfall. Killed by the explosion, which came with little warning, were John Wood, 35, and Elbert Cross.

Rescue crews had to dig through the debris to locate Cross' body.

Three other workmen escaped. One was saved by a falling beam which lodged and protected him until he crawled to safety.

Bob Ratetin, who was protected by the beam, said the Mammoth diesel engine developed a hot piston.

Chicago Printers Strike Appears Near Settlement

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—The 22 months old strike of 1,550 AFL newspaper printers—a dispute that cost well above $10,000,000—appeared virtually settled today.

Agreement has been reached between representatives of the union and Chicago's five daily newspapers. It has been approved by the executive council of the AFL International Typographical Union John J. Pilch, president of Local 16, AFL, said the officers and scale committee will recommend acceptance of the new contract to the rank and file at a vote Sunday.

The agreement, exact details of which have not been made public, grants the strikers a $10 weekly wage boost. The union originally asked $15. The agreement also covers hiring, union laws, struck work, reproduction and jurisdiction.

Wages for the printers, before the strike, were $85.50 for a 361 hour week for day shift; $91 for a 361 hour week for night shift, and $91 for a 30 hour week for the early morning shift.

Senate Passes Trade Bill Without GOP Restrictions

Yugo Charges Russ Put Hungary Up To 'Phony' Spy Trial

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—The Senate today passed the administration's reciprocal trade agreements legislation without restrictions demanded by Republicans.

The measure, previously approved by the House, goes directly to President Truman for his signature.

The vote for passage was 62 to 19.

Big Test
In the big test before the final vote, the Senate beat down, 43 to 38, efforts by Republicans to add to the measure their "peril point" plan for restricting the President's tariff cutting powers.

That vote was a straight party division except that three Democrats voted with the Republicans. They were Senators Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma.

By a hairline margin of 41 to 40, the Senate also rejected an amendment by Thomas which would have limited oil imports to 5 per cent of the domestic demand.

The measure gives the President authority until June 12, 1951, to make agreements with other nations for a mutual cutting of import duties.

Flies From Europe
The Republicans regarded their peril point amendment as so important that Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) flew back from Europe to vote for it.

The defeated amendment would have required the President to answer to congress whenever he decided to cut tariff rates below levels that the tariff commission held would endanger American industry.

The House already has passed a bill extending the trade law until June 12, 1951, same as the Senate bill. The House measure did not contain any peril point provision.

Final agreement by the House and Senate on the new measure will open the way for the negotiation of additional trade agreements. This has not been possible since the old law expired last June, although agreements previously worked out remain in effect.

Senate approval of the bill held up new hope to the British, anxious to expand their trade with the United States and to rebuild their dwindling dollar balances. A sharp stepping-up of trade with the United States is one of the principal aims of British foreign minister Ernest Bevin and Economic Chief Stafford Cripps, who journeyed here from London for the dollar talks completed Monday.

Preacher Charged With Alienating Affections Of Boy

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 15—(AP)—A father and mother sued a preacher today, charging that he alienated the affection of their 17-year-old son, who left home rather than renounce his choice of religion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Withrow of suburban South Charleston brought the $10,000 action against the Rev. Hilary C. Rice, pastor of the Church of God.

The bill complaint charged that young Oral C. Withrow left home because of influence exerted by the Rev. Mr. Rice and his wife.

J. Harold Hundley, attorney for the Withrows, said his clients were "bitterly opposed" to Oral attending the Church of God and several times had asked Mr. and Mrs. Rice to "leave the boy alone."

The parents said they attend the Baptist church, although they are not members.

Vandenberg Tells Europe It Must Recover Quickly

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told western European nations pointedly tonight they must take immediate strides towards self sufficiency and greater cooperation among themselves.

"No matter what our cooperative disposition or our self interest, there are definite limits to the American resources which we can safely invest in foreign aid," the GOP foreign policy leader said.

"Recognition of this fact is as important to you as it is to us because our unweakened strength is a common asset for us all. These limits must not and will not be overreached."

Vandenberg, in what is expected to be his last major public speech before entering a hospital, chose his forum a dinner of the overseas writers club for 50 visiting newsmen from 14 European countries.

He plans to remain in Washington only until the Senate has acted upon the global military aid program before undergoing a physical checkup which, physicians have advised, may lead to a major operation.

Vandenberg is the ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

West Asks Russia To Resume Talks On Austria Treaty

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—The western Big Three foreign ministers climaxed their conference on cold war political issues by calling on Soviet Russia tonight to resume broken off negotiations for a "satisfactory" treaty with Austria.

Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Schuman of France met behind closed doors at the state department for nearly four hours. A joint communiqué said they explored the Austrian treaty difficulties, possible new working arrangements in Germany, and "also exchange views on current developments in Yugoslavia and the Balkans."

The session concluded three days of a full dress review of political problems facing the west, which Schuman joined today.

Negotiations for an Austrian treaty came to a halt Sept. 1 at London with the foreign ministers' deputies far apart on Russian demands which Acheson said would saddle burdens on Austria which that country could not sustain and remain independent. Moscow has failed to reply to an American proposal that the negotiations be resumed Sept. 22 at New York.

ILLINOIS FARMERS GET 9 MILLION FOR SOIL CONSERVATION

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—A total of $9,074,000 in federal funds will go to Illinois farmers to take part in the 1950 soil conservation program, Lee M. Gentry announced today.

He is state chairman of the production and marketing administration.

Gentry said that the amount was $612,000 more than was allotted to Illinois farmers in 1949.

Farmers who cooperate in a soil conservation program set up by the state office of the administration will get the funds.

Has Been New Deal Stalwart Many Years

Washington, Sept. 15—(AP)—President Truman today picked his one-time Senate colleague, Circuit Judge Sherman Minton of Indiana, for the Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death of Wiley Rutledge.

Minton was a one-term Democratic senator and a New Deal stalwart. He has been on the 7th Federal Circuit Court of Appeals (Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin) bench for the past eight years.

The president made the announcement at a news conference. He also announced these appointments, and then sent their nominations to the Senate for confirmation.

BEAUTY QUEENS

America's beauty queen is a 106-pound brunet from an Arizona ranch, out where meat is plentiful and men grow big and strong. But Jacques Mercer preferred a slim figure to the satisfied feeling that comes from consuming a thick beefsteak. There are many like her.

Germany's beauty queen, on visit in this country, is 122-pound Ingeborg Marianne Loewenstein. In her country food is scarce.

The contrast isn't an oddity of the news. The German beauty, selected last March, observed that American girls are better built than their German sisters. "Usually German girls are heavier set."

They don't get heavy just by wishing they had a chocolate nut sundae. It takes calories to add weight.

Perhaps this situation offers us a lesson in contentment. We usually want what we haven't got. If food is scarce, we want food; if food is plentiful, we want the trim figure of a low diet. If rocks were scarcer than diamonds, they would fetch a dazzling price.

CURBING 5 PER CENTERS

Washington is making some constructive moves to curb 5 per centers, with the emphasis on decentralization. Jess Larson, chief U. S. purchasing agent, will establish information centers. Defense Secretary Johnson and Budget Director Pace are at work on plans to assist small firms in doing business with the government.

It would require a powerful imagination to suppose that such moves will eliminate all the individuals in Washington who make a business of putting businessmen in touch with the right officials. Much government business will still be awarded by favoritism, for the simple reason that in many instances there is practically no other way of making a decision between rival bidders. But these moves will help.

Wm. George Eads
And Philadelphia
Girl Are United

Special to Journal Courier
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 15—Miss Anna Babcock of Philadelphia and William George Eads of Teaneck, N. J., were married Saturday, Sept. 10, at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, 47th street and Springfield avenue.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William H. Flatley. A nuptial Mass followed.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Betty Babcock, as maid of honor; Mrs. Vincent Sherry, a cousin, and Mrs. Thomas Glynn, all of Philadelphia, as bridesmaids. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas O'Donnell of Philadelphia.

Father Is Best Man
Mr. Eads had his father, W. J. Eads of Teaneck, as best man. The ushers were John R. White of Dumont, N. J., and Harold L. Busching of Sea Cliff, N.Y., both high school classmates of the bridegroom, and Edward F. Flinn, Waterbury, Conn., a Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity brother of Mr. Eads.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with train and a full length veil caught with pearls. She carried a prayer book and her flowers were white orchids and tube roses. Her attendants' gowns and hats were in blue and they carried old-fashioned bouquets.

A reception and breakfast at the Bala Country club, just outside the city, followed the ceremony.

Among the guests from a distance were Rev. Edward D. Hennessey of the bridegroom's home parish, Holy Trinity R.C. church, Hackensack, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wilson of Marion, Ohio.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Babcock of Philadelphia and was graduated from Hempstead, N.Y., High school.

Mr. Eads is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eads of Teaneck, N. J., and a grandson of the late George W. Eads and Mrs. Nellie Eads of Jacksonville, Ill. He was graduated from Teaneck, N. J., High school, served a year in the navy in World War II, and is a senior in the Towne Scientific school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Eads went to Atlantic City, N. J., for a brief honeymoon. They will reside at 4400 Pine street, Philadelphia.

Men Who Buy, Sell Gems Get
Ulcers, But Not The Diggers

By Hal Boyle
New York—(AP)—Men who buy and sell diamonds may get ulcers—but the lads who dig them don't.

The gems are whacked out of the good earth of Africa by black-hued native boys.

"Cancer is extremely rare among them, and ulcers are absolutely unknown," said Mrs. Gladys Babson Hannaford, who has made a career lecturing on diamonds.

Mrs. Hannaford returned recently from a trip through the glittering mines of the dark continent. She is one of the first women to inspect the coastal diamond fields north of the Orange river in southwest Africa. Camels Get Rheumatism

Rumors have spread around the world that these fields are so fabulously rich that a man can slip ashore at night from a motor boat, scoop up a gallon of rough diamonds—and speed away a millionaire.

Owners even are reported to have hired camel patrols to guard the beaches at night against nocturnal raiders.

Mrs. Hannaford says this is all utterly ridiculous.

"They couldn't have a camel patrol because camels get rheumatism that close to the sea," she said.

The Fields Are Rich
"The fields are rich, but the native diggers would feel lucky if they collected a gallon of diamonds in a year. And it's an expensive operation requiring much equipment. The diamonds are found inland in a layer twenty to thirty feet under the sand covering a prehistoric beach."

Mrs. Hannaford dashed any hope that engagement diamonds would become cheaper. She said the stockpile of stones that existed before the war has been eaten up. And the source of supply is dwindling.

"Only three mines are now operating in the rich Kimberley fields," she said.

What's phosphorus to a pig?

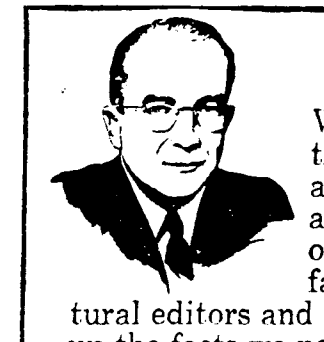

Just a half a pound of your 250-lb. pig is phosphorus. This seems a small amount. But without it, your pig would die. And there are other minerals just as vital to livestock. Some they need in quite large amounts . . . calcium and sodium as well as phosphorus. Others we call trace elements. These they need in very small amounts. . . . such as cobalt, iron, copper and manganese.
 But your animals do need these trace elements. The people at the agricultural colleges have proved that past all doubt. Some minerals are a "must" if you want to raise healthy, fast-gaining cattle. That goes for lambs and hogs, too. For example, these men find that grass and grains in Dade County, Florida, are short of copper and iron. Clallam County, Washington, needs iodine to check goiter. They know that San Diego County, California, hasn't enough phosphorus. In Aroostook County, Maine, the scarce mineral is cobalt. Ranchers and farmers in these four corners of the country have this problem. Their feeds and forages are short of one or more vital minerals. Many other areas share the problem, including parts of the great Corn Belt.
 But you ask, "How can I spot animals which suffer from mineral shortage?" It's not too easy. If the lack is serious, your stock may have rickets, "big neck," anemia or other ailments. But there are some early symptoms you can spot. These are bone chewing, loss of appetite, slow gains, rough and scrubby coats. Or just a general unthrifty condition gives you the clue. If you start feeding a mineral which contains the essential trace elements, you may bring them around fast. But if this doesn't work, then you should consult your veterinarian, county agent or agricultural college.
 The common mineral deficiencies in your area are known. By feeding mineral-balanced rations, you can correct these lacks. Or you can build up the mineral content of the soil. Either, or both, of these will help you grow healthier livestock, at a lower cost.

Supplemental Mineral for Wintering Range Ewes
 by William H. Burkitt
 Montana State College

Thirteen mineral elements are known to be necessary for normal functioning of an animal body. However, this does not mean that all 13 must be supplied in a mineral mixture. Many of them are present, under usual feeding conditions, in sufficient amounts for breeding ewes. Those lacking in Montana include sodium and chlorine (salt), iodine, phosphorus, and possibly cobalt.
 Lack of sufficient iodine in the ration of pregnant ewes results in lambs being born with "big neck" (goiter). Thin wool in lambs may also result. If dead or weak lambs have shown "big neck" or thin wool at birth in past years, stabilized iodized salt should definitely be fed the ewes this winter.
 Phosphorus deficiency may exist in wintering range ewes, particularly if there is little or no supplemental feeding. Abortions and weak lambs may result from deficient phosphorus. Pregnant ewes should have from 0.16% to 0.18% phosphorus in their feed. Many grass hays and mature range grasses contain less than 0.15% phosphorus and some contain as low as 0.04% phosphorus. Bone meal, defluorinated rock phosphates, and monosodium phosphate are satisfactory sources of phosphorus. Palatability and consumption may be improved by mixing with salt.
 Cobalt is believed to be needed by micro-organisms in the paunch. A lack results in loss of appetite, less feed consumption, and eventually starvation. A possible cobalt deficiency may be guarded against by mixing 1 ounce of cobalt salt with each 100 pounds of stock salt. Cobalt carbonate, chloride, or sulfate are all satisfactory. (Editor's note: The principles of nutrition discussed above apply to most kinds of livestock and in all parts of the country.)

Hello Again!

We are glad to be back with the Swift page of information and ideas. What did we do all summer? Well, among other things, we visited with farmers, ranchers, agricultural editors and educators. And we rounded up the facts we need to make these messages interesting and useful to you producers. As we said away back in 1944—"This is your page, and we welcome suggestions from our readers." We still do. Just write to me at Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Illinois . . . And when you're in Chicago, drop in and see us.

LET'S SUPPORT OUR "MEAT TEAM"—You know, times change—but some folks don't change with the times. I'm thinking of the type of man who always thinks that someone is getting the best of him in business. He sells a load of steers. No matter what his return, he's not satisfied—the packer, the commission man, the retailer—somebody else always gets a "bigger slice." But, during this past summer, I talked to a lot of people about the livestock-meat industry and our mutual problems. And I found a refreshing, encouraging attitude—"Sure, we got problems. Who hasn't these days? But if producer, packer and retailer work together as the 'meat team,' we'll work things out. . . . It's just good business to have a decent regard for the contributions made by other members of your team. I hope you have followed the 'Meat Team' advertisements of the American Meat Institute and will talk to your neighbors about them.

FACT CONFIRMED—Out in the West, whenever I passed a town with a local meat-packing plant, I thought, "This town, out here where there is lots of livestock, is well served by that local plant. But what about the distant cities filled with meat eaters and no nearby livestock production to speak of?" I know for a fact that meat has to travel an average of more than 1,000 miles to reach those consumers. The only way they can get meat is through the low-cost processing and marketing services provided by nationwide meat packers, like Swift & Company.

F.M. Simpson,
 Agricultural Research Dept.

MONEY and MEAT—In the fall months we run into an unusual situation in the livestock-meat packing industry. At that time we often see the year's high market for top finished beef cattle. And this top price usually is being paid when the average price for all cattle is moving in the opposite direction.
 The high price is explained by the fact that during the fall we usually have the shortest supply of the year of well finished, long fed cattle. Brisk demand for this short supply naturally will force the price up.
 The lower average price results from the annual move to market of huge numbers of grass-fed cattle.
 About 20 per cent of all the cattle and lambs slaughtered during a whole year must be handled in September and October. Meat from these animals being slaughtered any given day generally is on the dinner table in less than 14 days.
 Folks aren't likely to have any more money to spend on food during the fall months than in February, when fewer meat animals are being marketed.
 Since beef and lamb is largely a fresh meat business, there's a lot of meat to eat during the fall months. Consequently, since consumers have no more money to spend, meat prices have to be lowered. And that's just what happens, as it usually does with an increased amount of meat to be sold and no increase in the amount of money with which to buy it. These lower meat prices are most noticeable, of course, in the large consuming centers where surplus supplies always can be moved at a price.
 Naturally, then, livestock prices follow meat prices. Producers should keep in mind that the prices they receive for their meat and the by-products. This is perfectly demonstrated, as we have pointed out above, when the price for one kind of cattle, in short supply, is moving up at the same time that prices of other cattle, in heavy supply, are moving down.

May Salvage Some Grain From New Berlin Elevator

F. W. Hagen of Pleasant Plains said Thursday that the salvage from 8,000 bushels of soybeans, corn, wheat and oats from the Hagen elevator in New Berlin which was destroyed by fire Tuesday night, will be "very small."
Mr. Hagen said the corporation which owns other elevators at Prouty, five miles south, and Richland, ten miles north of New Berlin, would first try to get what it could from the grain which was still smoldering Wednesday night. After completing the salvage the company will consider plans for putting up another structure.
The fire came on the eve of what is predicted to be one of the most prolific years of grain production in central Illinois.

COMMON GRAVE FOR 200,000 JEWS—Residents of Tel-Aviv pray over a case containing the ashes of comrades cremated in Germany during the war. The large wood-and-glass case, flown to Israel from Rome, contains ashes gathered from the common graves of 200,000 Jews who died in 30 Nazi concentration camps. Each of the 30 urns bears the name of the camp from which the ashes were gathered. The case will rest in Jerusalem's Sanhedria Cemetery. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent E. F. Ilani.)

AT 74, KIRBY, BEARD, STILL STEPPING OUT

By Daniel R. Anthony IV
NEA Special Correspondent
Leavenworth, Kans. — Kirby McRill, who calls himself the "World's Champion Walker," came back home after seven months in a Kansas City hospital. But he took a bus.
Kirby says he isn't quite up to snuff yet, which is why he didn't walk it. Not because he's 74, but because, he claims, someone laid him low with a dose of strychnine.
"The fellow said he was going somewhere, and didn't have time to eat his lunch. Well, I'm a big eater. Poison musta been in a hunk of cheese. A few days later, I just keeled over, right there on a main street in Kansas City."
He's out now "walkin' gettin' the blood back to goin' gettin' in practice." He's practicing up for a long walk this fall. He plans to hike up to Chicago to take in the railroad fair.
Kirby McRill first attracted attention by walking into Leavenworth from his farm every time he had business in the city. It was a trip of about 30 miles. Later, he walked all over the country, because he liked to and because he thought it was good exercise.
About 27 years ago, he went to Kansas City, dyed his long hair and beard a flaming red, and carried sandwich signs on the streets. He'd wear bright red socks to match his beard, and baseball pants and jacket.
Lately, he's been in the box business. He collects boxes from downtown stores, puts the little ones inside the big ones, ties a rope to the biggest, and hauls them to his "market."

SCIENCE ROLLS ON WITH LABORATORY ON WHEELS

MOBILE MICROSCOPE: Dr. Alfred S. Lazarus, one of the directors of the University of Washington's new laboratory on wheels, studies some virus specimens in the mobile lab.

By FRED ZAVATTERO
 NEA Staff Correspondent

Seattle, Wash.—(NEA)—The University of Washington's Medical School is launching a mobile attack on diseases. In a new laboratory on wheels, scientists will be able to carry their equipment to remote corners of the state as they track down germs.

A converted surplus Army ambulance has been outfitted as a compact laboratory, one of the few like it in the nation. It will be used by members of the school's department of public health and preventive medicine to conduct on-the-spot research.

"When we need material from another part of the state, it is often difficult to obtain specimens promptly," Dr. Leland E. Powers, head of the University department said. "With our new laboratory, we can go anywhere and get what we want, when we want it."

The new equipment will first be used in the Yakima Valley for follow-up research studies of encephalitis, a virus disease affecting the central nervous system of humans and horses.

Several years before World War II, a series of serious encephalitis epidemics broke out in the Yakima Valley, but there have been none in recent years.

Under the direction of Dr. William Hammon of the University of California and Dr. Alfred S. Lazarus, associate professor of public health and preventive medicine at the University of Washington, researchers will try to determine why the disease disappeared and the chances of its recurring.

"We know that wild birds and chickens are carriers of the virus, which is transmitted to humans and horses by mosquitoes," Dr. Lazarus said. "By examining mosquitoes and checking the blood of humans, horses and birds, we will know if the virus is still present in the Yakima Valley."

"We hope our studies will make possible the permanent control of the disease, which has caused up to 30 per cent fatalities in the past," Dr. Lazarus added.

Although the mobile laboratory was designed primarily for field research work, it will be available for use in disaster areas which often result in epidemics.

Designed by A. W. Green, University public health engineer, the laboratory includes a two-man bench, microscopes, Bunsen burners, racks of test tubes and a sink with running water. An auxiliary lighting system is provided by batteries in case normal power supply lines are not available.

Greater control of diseases in rural areas is expected with the aid of this "laboratory on wheels."

Mission Society At Glasgow Has Regular Meeting

Papers were read by Mrs. John P. Ward, Mrs. Clarence Adams and Mrs. Will Powis. The program closed with a hymn and missionary benediction.

During the social hour, riddles were given by the program leader. Refreshments were served by the hostess, with Mrs. Jesse Sherwin assisting.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John P. Ward on Oct. 12.

Indians Debate Oath Forms

New Delhi —(P)—Provisions on forms of oath were decided after a lively debate in the constituent assembly here. The form proposed in the draft constitution read as this: "I, A.B.C., do solemnly affirm (or swear by God)."

Sardar Rhipendra Singh Mann, a Sikh member, said that in a secular state one should not be asked to swear in the name of God. Two Hindu members, H. V. Kamath and M. Tyagi, wanted to reverse the formula and bring the words "swear by God" first, and the affirmation later. They said: India first gave the idea of God to the world. God belongs to India and India is a land of God. Therefore God must come first.

The house adopted the Kamath-Tyagi amendment. The new clause read: "I, A.B.C., swear in the name of God (or solemnly affirm)".

THE DOCTOR SAYS
Century Has Seen
Decline Of Many Common Diseases

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

The most common contagious diseases of childhood are chickenpox, measles, mumps, and whooping cough. Scarlet fever is less frequent and diphtheria has become comparatively rare. Mumps may be more serious in grownups than in children; whooping cough is particularly dangerous to elderly people and infants.

Because regulations vary in different communities, it is only possible to mention customary isolation periods here. For measles it is about 10 days or until the rash has disappeared; for mumps, until the swelling at the sides of the jaws has gone down, which usually takes about eight days; in chickenpox isolation is usually about two weeks or until the skin has become free of crusting. There is some reason to believe that this is even longer than necessary. For whooping cough isolation should be about three weeks after the beginning of the stage of paroxysmal coughing.

Second Attacks Rare

Another question which is frequently asked concerns the likelihood of second attacks of these contagious diseases. Second attacks of chickenpox and measles are quite rare, although they sometimes occur. Whooping cough can strike more than once, although this is also unusual. Mumps can develop in the parotid gland on one side and later on it can occur on the other. Mumps rarely produce serious complications in youngsters but in grown men it can cause sterility. This seems to be the only reason for considering mumps in the young more desirable than in later years.

The whole subject of contagious diseases is a complicated one but there has been an enormous decrease in most of them during this century. Even today, however, measles and whooping cough, for example, cause more deaths in an average year than does polio.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

QUESTION: If a cyst in the breast is not serious why would it have to be cut out?

ANSWER: It is often difficult to tell certainly whether a tumor of the breast is a cyst or something more serious unless it is cut out and a part of it examined under the microscope. This is the reason that an operation for this condition is usually recommended.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

Obviously the railroad cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law Which Are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's most important transportation systems, with all the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

There is No Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What Are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

EASTERN SOUTHEASTERN WESTERN RAILROADS

New York Stock Market

New York, Sept. 15—(P)—The stock market put up a good show of resistance today to selling pressure, but soon leveled off. Later in the day some issues showed a tendency to rally and enough selective buying developed to lift some stocks to the best prices of the year.

Steel, railway, and oil shares were on the defensive throughout the session.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Standard Oil (N.J.), Gulf Oil, Barnsdall Oil, Nickel Plate, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Homestead Mining, General Electric, U. S. Gypsum, and American Telephone.

High-priced Coca-Cola shot up 11 1/2 points to 17 1/2 at one time. Highs for the year were also touched during the day by A. O. Smith, White Sewing Machine, and Sunshine Mining.

WHEAT FUTURES RALLY ON EXPORT BUYING, SHORT COVERING

Chicago, Sept. 15—(P)—Heavy export buying and general short covering rallied wheat futures today.

Wheat gained more than 3 cents a bushel at times, with the December contract reaching the best levels since January. Wheat buying strengthened corn and soybeans, but oats remained weak.

Traders received reports that the government is offering a cent more for cash wheat at Philadelphia. There also was flour mill buying of wheat against expected sales of flour to the government overnight for export.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents higher than the previous finish, September $2.09 1/2, corn was 1/4 higher to lower, September $1.26 1/4. Boston Fears Joe McCarthy Will Lose Another Close One-To The Yankees

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

New York—(NEA)—Now they're saying in Boston that Joe McCarthy loses the close ones.

Fear is expressed that the winningest manager's Red Sox will drop another whiskery verdict—this time to the plucky Yankees.

Attempting to build a case, a figure filbert produces figures showing that the nine major league pennants won by McCarthy-directed clubs—one with the Cubs and eight with the Yankees—were all garnered by lopsided margins—from nine to 19 1/2 games.

At the same time he picks up pencil and paper to make it clear that all the tighter decisions have gone against McCarthy's men.

This takes you smack dab up to the play-off with the Indians last fall.

You'd suspect it was McCarthy's fault that he ran out of pitchers, and had to come in there with old Denny Galehouse. With the pitching he had, Marse Joe was something of a miracle man bringing the Sox to 12 1/2 games off the pace, where they were in June.

McCarthy had the pitching to perform practically the same feat this trip, although the Boston Americans have seriously felt the loss of Mickey McDermott, the remarkable young left-hander who pulled a muscle in his shoulder in Chicago, Aug. 27.

In 29 years of managing, McCarthy has been in the second division just once. He bagged 11 pennants, was eight times second.

So the figure filbert needn't be concerned about the way the Red Sox are being guided. McCarthy can't pitch and hit for them, but they won't be cheated in the percentage and thinking departments.

Just before the Red Sox dropped that double-header to the Athletics, Ted Williams listed the Yankees' twin bills as one of the reasons he believed the Back Bay Millionaires would bounce down in front.

"It's hard to win a double-header, and I don't care who you're playing," remarked the batting champion.

Then the A's made it look ridiculously simple.

By this time the Dodgers know the Cardinals mean it.

Speaking of the Redbirds, they are the most articulate of ball clubs. The St. Louis Nationals will barber baseball with you whenever they are off the field.

You can learn about hitting and outfielding from Stan Musial and country Slaughter. Slat Marion talks baseball intelligently and long.

Harry Brecheen will tell you more about his and the other National League clubs than any other player I know. And at the head of them all is Eddie Dyer, the personable and obliging Rice alumnus who helped build the chain.

The baseball writers are always pleased when the blokes in the red blazers come to town.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Sept. 15—(P)—Trading in livestock turned erratic today. The hog market was overweighed with an extra 1,000 head held over from Wednesday, and prices ranged from steady to 50 cents lower. Cattle, which have been flowing in this week at the greatest rate since the spring of 1947, found a steer and heifer outlet only at 50 cents to $2 lower. The balance of the Bovines were steady to 50 cents less. Lambs were 50 cents lower but ewes were strong.

Barrows and gilts sold from $18 to $21.50. A top of $21.75 was paid but sparingly. Sows ranged from $16 to $20.25, a few getting to $20.50.

Choice to prime steers topped at $34.75, most good and choice going at $26.50 to $32.50. A part-lod of heifers made $30.25 but most good and choice heifers and mixed yearlings were $25.50 to $29.50. Cows and bulls peaked at $20.50 and vealers mainly sold from $29 downward although extremes made $30.

Good and choice native lambs fetched $23 to $24, ewes topping at $9.

Salable receipts included an estimated 8,000 hogs, 6,500 cattle, 500 calves, and 1,500 sheep.

U.S. Wins 'Round' Over-Golf Clubs In Ryder Cup Meet

Canton, England, Sept. 15.—(P)—The United States won the "first round" in the Ryder Cup Golf series tonight—a ruling that deep-grooved clubs owned by Dick Burton of the British team must be filed down before he plays in tomorrow's opening matches.

Ben Hogan, non-playing captain of the U.S. team, raised the charge against Burton's clubs this afternoon during an inspection before high golf officials from both sides of the Atlantic. Hogan and Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British team, agreed to submit the sticks to Bernard Darwin, chairman of the British rules of golf committee.

Hoffman Says ERP Ahead Of Schedule

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 15.—(P)—The Marshall plan is ahead of schedule and it is "definitely possible" to have western Europe self-supporting by the target date of June 30, 1952, administrator Paul G. Hoffman reported tonight.

Hoffman said, however, "it is going to take a lot of doing on the part of both Europeans and Americans."

May Ask Belgium Admittance To US

Ghent, Belgium, Sept. 15.—(P)—Gaston Eyskens, prime minister of Belgium, said today his country wouldn't mind becoming the 49th state of the U.S.A.

He jokingly told guests at a Belgian-American luncheon: "Provided our national integrity is preserved, I think it would be a good way of solving the pending problems of American custom tariffs."

Meredosia, Arenzville Register Victories In Six-Man Grid Openers

The Meredosia Indians got off on the right foot in 2-C six-man football competition when they carved out a 26-18 decision from Franklin's Flashes on the Waverly turf last night.

The Savoie coached Indians, paced by the heady passing of quarterback Dick Simpson plus the hard running of halfbacks Tony Simon and Newman, scored in every quarter. The Franklin hosts were hampered offensively when their number one halfback Bob Hocking broke a finger on the opening kick-off and was sidelined most of the game.

The river-gang wasted little time in getting their offensive punch rolling. Receiving the kickoff, Dick Simon ran for 10 yards, and then Simon faked back and heaved a long pass to left end Norrup for the first touchdown. A drop kick try for the conversion failed.

Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 15.—(P)—The 19th hole took on a different meaning today as two California girls, a sturdy campaigner from Georgia and a veteran Pennsylvania competitor advanced to the semi-finals of the 49th Women's National Golf tournament.

Football Briefs

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 15.—(P)—Two guards who have looked like certain starters in Northwestern's line are now having a ding dong fight to keep their first string berths.

They are Lawrence (Fats) Day of Mason City, Iowa, and Bob Nowicki of Chicago. Their competition comes from Richie Anderson of Winnetka, Ill., and Jim Paragon of Evanston.

Big Ernie Bonham, Veteran Buc Hurler, Dies After Operation

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15.—(P)—Big six foot frame, was believed to be Ernie Bonham knew what was coming. He told it in the language he knew best—baseball.

"They're hitting me all over the field and I can't get them out," he murmured this from a hospital cot to Pittsburgh Pirate Manager Billy Meyer.

Ernie died today just 16 hours later.

Complications from a three-hour appendicitis operation Sept. 9 ended the diamond career of the 36-year-old veteran Pirate pitcher.

Franklin was hampered considerably when their ace passer Bob Hocking broke his little finger during the opening kick off action. He came into the game midway through the third quarter, but couldn't measure up to his coach's hopes.

Paul Stroud, Routt coach, scouted the Arenzville gang last night since his Rockets were idle. He wondered what kind of defense he'll devise to stop the big Arenzville lad when they come here next Thursday night for the Routt opener.

Bob Kraushaar served as head lineman in the Franklin-Dosh tussle. That's a good way to work off the nervousness that was sure to plague him on the eve of the Crimmon-Saukkee opener. Game time is 8 p.m. tonight.

G.O.P. Speaker Urges Preservation Of Ideals And National Solvency

Morgan county Republicans yesterday heard a fighting address given by Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin when he spoke at the picnic held at the fairground. Mr. Dirksen, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from 1932 until his retirement last year, is expected to make formal announcement of his candidacy in the race for the U. S. Senate, the post now held by Scott Lucas of Havana.

Dirksen assailed the Marshall Plan, national domestic and foreign policies and the inertia of the Republican party. He called for protection of "our freedoms and the promotion of Republican ideals to interest the millions of Americans who didn't vote in last year's general election."

"The British people have only one freedom left, the freedom to lament the freedoms that are gone. Englishmen have lost the freedoms of the ancestors because they've over-spent their income. They are beggars. And they are taking us down the same road," he declared.

"Given Show" He called the Marshall Plan "the greatest giveaway show of all time." He chastised the "me too" element of the Republican party, declaring "you'll never outlive the crowd that's in office today, a group that puts victory ahead of country. We can't promise to play Santa Claus in a bigger and better way."

Recalling that only 52 per cent of the eligible voters cast a ballot for president in 1948, the speaker urged "a rebirth of our vital faith."

"The Republican party was cradled in the quest of freedom. We have lost some of that fire of its soul, the fire needed to set spiritual and moral values."

Hessian Fly Free Date Oct. 2-4 In Morgan County

To cut down Hessian fly damage, Morgan county wheat growers should wait until Oct. 4 before planting, farm adviser E. H. Garlich said today.

This date is recommended by G. C. Decker, insect specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture and Illinois Natural History survey. Decker says the average date of seeding wheat for highest yields in Morgan county is between Oct. 2 and Oct. 4.

Although wheat has escaped serious damage during the past three years, the Hessian fly carry-over in stubble is still quite high. One step in escaping serious infestation is to plant after the fly-free date.

Peak flight and egg-laying occur in late September. The flies live only a few days. If they cannot find young food plants, they will die without laying eggs or will place them on other plants where survival is low.

But planting at the right time alone will not control Hessian flies. Volunteer wheat growing in stubble fields must be destroyed, according to the farm adviser. This should be done preferably on a community-wide basis.

"If volunteer wheat is not destroyed this fall, and if recommended planting dates are not strictly observed," the adviser warned, "we may well expect a moderate to heavy infestation in the 1950 crop because the present Hessian fly population is so large."

Fly-free dates for other counties in this area are: Scott, Oct. 2-4; Cass, Sept. 30-Oct. 2; Greene and Macoupin, Oct. 4-7; Jersey, Oct. 6-8; Pike, Oct. 2-4.

ALL DAY TRAP SHOOT SUN., SEPT. 18, ARCADIA

SUPERMAN TO THE RESCUE

By Cecil Tendick

When Slick Sam levels a pistol at Madame Petite and demands her money, the lady yells for help. Everytime she opens her mouth her eyes fly shut. Superman and his flying cape zooms in from sky, laughs at bullets and bears Slick Sam off to the hoosegow and justice.

Clark Sabine says the scene is the most popular of his program, which includes the Melody Hour, Little Black Sambo, a circus and a radio show.

Clark is a 15 year old sophomore of Waverly high school who adopted puppets as a hobby three years ago, soon after he had seen the internationally known Proctor Puppets. He's read every available book on the subject, makes his own characters, writes the script and puts it on a tape recorder. He's got a helper, Virgil McMann, to manipulate the other characters when they come onstage. Virgil is also 15, also a sophomore at Waverly high school. Right now Clark is working on a Halloween sequence. He's got the with, a mean looking old sister, completed and has fashioned a gruesome set of hands for a start on Dracula, who should be about the most terrifying Dracula ever constructed. The hands alone give you a creepy feeling.

But Clark isn't sure he'll get the scene done in time. He's busy at school, jerks sodas at the Waverly Drug store after school hours, and gives a show occasionally. Making a puppet and making it right takes a lot of time.

But he's sure he'll have a Christmas scene ready before the middle of December. That is, if he can make up his mind whether to put Santa Claus in a sleigh or a jeep.

The portable stage is a compact piece of good carpentry. Clark made it himself, along with all the furniture needed to dress up the stage. Lighting is good, too. It's directed to obscure the apparent tangle of nylon lines which put the puppets through their paces.

Clark likes the tape recorder and thinks it's a first class investment. He can change the dialogue easily, to inject local color and personalities into the performance. Better yet, the music and dialogue goes on cueing the show and allowing the two operators to give their full attention to their puppets.

The youthful producer gave his first show in Waverly last October. This weekend he'll take some of his puppets over to Springfield, where they'll be displayed on the fifth floor of the Centennial building in connection with the annual hobby show sponsored by the Illinois State Museum. Tuesday night he gave a performance at a meeting of Jacksonville DeMolays. He's a member of the club.

Clark is the son of Mrs. Lucille Sabine, first grade teacher in the Waverly schools.

Defense Fails To Nullify Testimony In 'Love' Slaying

Dover, Del., Sept. 15—(AP)—The defense failed twice today to nullify testimony of state witnesses in the "lonely hearts" murder trial of Mrs. Inez Brennan, 43, and her 16-year-old son, Robert.

Robert is charged with the shot gun murder of elderly Wade N. Woodridge of Bedford County, Va., and his mother with being an accomplice.

Benjamin R. Donolow, chief defense lawyer, sought to exclude police testimony concerning an alleged oral confession given by Robert after his arrest at Mrs. Brennan's nearby farm.

The three-judge court refused after Donolow argued for 80 minutes that the confession was obtained under duress because the youth was held without a hearing for seven days.

Earlier, Donolow tried to get the court to throw out testimony by Mrs. Dolly Dean, the state's star witness. Mrs. Dean, formerly a boarder at the Brennan farm, testified Robert killed Woodridge at his mother's order.

CONVICT MAN, 76, OF MANSLAUGHTER IN PARIS SHOOTING

Alvahlee McCarthy Addresses BPWC Meeting Thursday

Mrs. Alvahlee McCarthy, chairman of the international relations committee of the Jacksonville Business and Professional Women's Club, spoke to the members on "The Question of Statehood for Hawaii" Thursday evening at the Dunlap hotel.

Mrs. McCarthy was introduced by her co-chairman, Miss Minnie Spire, who also presented Miss Mildred Eubank, another club member, who played two piano selections.

Mrs. McCarthy discussed both sides of the question, offering no definite answer to statehood.

She stated, "the average American thinks of Hawaii in terms of pineapples, hip-shakers and flowers and knows little about the economic, political or social life of the people."

"We must always consider that the largest military post and naval station under the American flag are in these islands."

Mrs. McCarthy went on to say, "Hawaii's biggest problem today is the 140 day old strike that has tied up its transportation. Statehood, which the majority of Hawaiians seem to desire, might help to solve that, and the other problems the country faces."

"The main point against annexation is that there is no specific law for admitting a territory not contiguous to the United States. Then too, many citizens fear communism in Hawaii because of the large alien population," she declared.

7 Plead Innocent To Violations Of Mail Lottery Law

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—Seven men indicted last Monday on charges of conspiracy and violation of the postal lottery laws by operating betting syndicates pleaded innocent today in federal district court here.

The seven defendants appeared in court. Their attorneys told U. S. District Judge Fred L. Wham the indictment returned by a federal grand jury at Danville, Ill., presented a novel interpretation of the lottery laws.

The lawyers asserted the case is in the nature of a test—on whether betting on sporting events constitutes a lottery—and asked for 60 days in which to present pleadings. The court granted them 30 days.

Indicted were C. J. (Kewpie) Rich and three associates, Sydney Wyman, Edward F. Fischer and Ralph Leon, and Frank Camarata and two associates, Paul J. Schneider and Charles J. Kastner, Jr. All of them live in the St. Louis area.

Scientists Blast Hickenlooper For AEC Investigations

Chicago, Sept. 15—(AP)—The bulletin of the atomic scientists said today that investigation of the Atomic Energy Commission by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Ia) was a "fainful failure."

The bulletin said in an editorial: "If ridiculous behavior were fatal in politics, Hickenlooper's career would be finished. The republican leadership should select another man to represent them in the joint atomic energy committee."

The magazine is sponsored by many scientists who had a leading part in development of the atomic bomb.

It said Hickenlooper had failed to prove his charge that David Lillenthal, AEC chairman, was guilty of "incredible mismanagement." Instead, the editorial added, he "demonstrated that a governmental agency such as the AEC has difficulty in attracting and keeping top-grade scientific and managerial talent—because of the limitations it puts on scientific freedom and on salaries."

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 15—(AP)—Two youths sentenced to die Sept. 23 for murdering a Jerseyville insurance man won an indefinite stay of execution today from the Illinois supreme court.

The court, in agreeing to review their convictions, held up their executions until "further order."

The youths are Carson Seger, 19, of Alton, and Curtis Chapman, 18, of White Hall. They pleaded guilty to murdering Howard Heininger, 35, in a $10 highway robbery. His bullet pierced body was found in a roadside ditch April 24 between Jerseyville and Carrollton.

The Supreme Court probably won't have a final decision in the case before its November term.

Wants Reds For Trainmen

Berlin—(P)—Hans-Rolf Trache, a former war prisoner in Russia, says crews of special trains taking released prisoners home to Germany should be pro-Soviet.

He wrote to "Neues Deutschland," newspaper of the east-German Socialist Unity (Communist) Party, that "we cannot understand why the railway management assigns crews who receive us with anti-Soviet agitation."

"As we return home after years of captivity," he continued "filled with anti-Fascist, democratic spirit, we are often disappointed by the men whom our country, the 'new Germany,' sends to meet us. They paint the Soviet Zone all black and blame the Russians for all wrongs, those Russians with whom we have become friends."

AUSTRIA'S WAR DEATH TOLL HIGH

Vienna—(P)—Austria's Second World War death toll is almost equal to the losses of the United States, according to a statistical survey published by the Austrian Trade Union Federation. More than 300,000 Austrians were killed in World War II, while United States losses, the federation says, amounted to 313,000.

The Austrian State also has to provide for 113,000 invalids from the late war in addition to 53,000 war invalids of the first World War.

Somalia Gets Anti-British Propaganda

Mogadiscio, Somalia —(P)—Anti-British propaganda — apparently coming from the United States—is widely spread in the former Italian colony of Somalia. An unidentified wireless station that purports to be from North American spreads daily news bulletins in Somali, inciting the population to revolt against their present rulers. Hundreds of copies of Italian written pamphlets with "printed in the U.S." label have been mailed to leaders of Somali tribes.

Somali Chieftain Abdullahi Issa, who signed the pamphlet, thanks Allah "for having succeeded in destroying the hateful and venomous project submitted to the U. N. General Assembly by Great Britain, famous for its imperialistic and egoistic projects."

"This project suggested that Somalia be returned to Italy."

"OYEZ" PROVES COSTLY

Tideswell, England—(P)—This village has been looking for a towncrier for seven years without success.

In desperation, the town council boosted the wages from one shilling (20 cents) to five shillings ($1) for each cry of "oyez, oyez" to announce a notice. Still no one stepped forward.

"They're shy," commented Benjamin Lomas Fletcher, chairman of the council. "It takes a lot of nerve, you know, to go through the streets ringing a bell and shouting 'oyez' or 'hear ye.' Any sort of man will do, so long as he has a loud voice."

OUTSIZED RADISH

Casino, N.S.W., Australia—(P)—A radish which sounds as if it should have come from the celebrated Mowbray Swamp, Tasmania—where they grow turnips up to four feet long and still edible—has been reported here. It weighed 44 lbs. and was one of 15, the others nearly as big. J. Goldsmith produced these monsters in his back-yard garden.

Penang Wants To Be Colony

Penang, Malaya—(P)—The island of paradise of Penang wants nothing better than to be alone.

The British, Chinese, Indian, Ceylonese and Eurasian leaders of Penang's economic and political life are vocal in their demands that the island secede from the Federation of Malaya and once again become a British Crown Colony.

The basic population of Penang is Chinese. The basic population of the Malayan Federation is Malay. Eighteen months ago Penang was removed by Britain from its Colony called the Straits Settlements which included Singapore and Malacca.

Penang was placed with its mainland neighbor Wellesley Province into the newly formed Federation of Malaya.

The Malayan Federation is the British dream of "uniting and transferring rule" to the people of this British protectorate. First, however, there must be a real government to accept the new dominion status being planned.

Odyssey Discussed By Second Year Great Books Group

Emma Mae Leonhard and Norma Davidmeier were leaders when the second year group of the Great Books seminar met for discussion of Homer's Odyssey. Opinions were expressed on the universal appeal of the Odyssey, the author and the human characteristics admired by the Greeks. There was a friendly controversy as to whether the character of the faithful wife or of the adventuresome wanderer or the skill of the narrator held reader's interest in this story for three thousand years. During the year, eighteen meetings will be held, scheduled for the second and fourth Monday of each month. Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex," Milton's discussion of freedom of the press, Swift's Satire, "Gulliver's Travels" and "The Acquisitive Society," by Tawney, are among the books to be discussed. The next meeting of the second year group will be held in the seminar room of the public library at 7 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 26. Anyone interested in joining this discussion group is invited to do so.

Cass Legion Post To Discuss Policy At Sept. 21 Meet

Virginia—The Walter Reid Post No. 258 of the American Legion will hold its first regular meeting under its new administration on Wednesday, Sept. 21, in the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. Commander Don Huff will preside and a round table discussion concerning present and future Legion policies and events affecting the local post will be held.

Commander Huff has announced that there will be a Cass county meeting of Legionnaires in Ashland on Sept. 28. New county officers are to be elected at this meeting and a good attendance is desired.

Officers Elected
The Capsule Sisters of the Virginia Christian church held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. E. Holden on Tuesday evening. Highlighting the evening was the revealing of sisters and drawing of new names.

The annual election of officers was also held and Mrs. O. H. Diechman was elected president. The vice president is Mrs. Glen Kilby and Mrs. Russell Knight was named secretary-treasurer.

Stanley Huston will be in charge of the insurance work at the Cass Farm Bureau office until D. T. Fitzpatrick returns from his vacation. Mr. Fitzpatrick and family are leaving today for an extended trip through Canada. They will return about the first of October.

How To Hold:

FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy or embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy goosy, nasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

tended the Miller-Wiemer wedding held Sunday afternoon at the Fourth Street Lutheran church in Beardstown.

Mrs. Grace Wilson of Murphysboro is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Partha Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jokisch this week.

The Virginia Home Bureau will meet on Friday, Sept. 16, at 2:00 p.m. with Mrs. Paul Young.

The major lesson, "Wise Use of Resources in Saving Time and Energy," will be given by Dorothy Harrison. Miss Louise Curtis will give the minor lesson entitled, "Packing School Lunches."

JACKSONVILLE YOUTHS ENROLLED AT KEMPER

Three cadets from this area have enrolled at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., for the fall term. They are: James J. Wallis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallis, 18 Pitzer Pl.; Robert E. Faugust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faugust, 886 East State street, and John E. Brasel, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Brasel, 127 Westminster street.

They are among 380 students from some 20 states and several foreign countries attending Kemper this year.

ITALY HAS MORE LIVESTOCK THAN PREWAR

Rome—(P)—Italy's cattle population now exceeds that of pre-war years. Figures released by the Central Statistics Office show there were 7,923,000 head of cattle and oxen at the end of 1948, compared with 7,667,000 ten years ago. Pigs total 800,000 more than the 1938 figures, while sheep equal the pre-war level. Goats now number 2,174,600 head compared with 1,828,000 in 1938.

Only horses have not reached the pre-war level, numbering 720,000 against 791,000 in 1938.

The Agriculture Ministry program aims at 8,000,000 head of cattle before the end of 1950. The Ministry expects to raise the number of pigs to 3,700,000 and to obtain better meat production through selective breeding.

BUFFALO BEATS FRUIT-EATING TIGER

Kemaman, Malaya—(P)—A buffalo attacked and drove off a seven-foot tigress and thereby won the undying affection of a Malay man. Other Malays finally shot down the tigress.

Veterans jungle experts say one incidental bit of information came out of the situation—the tigress was eating a tropical fruit called the durian, an evil smelling thing that everyone has always insisted not self-respecting tiger would think of touching.

GAYNEL wished she had not added that last jibe. Fritz might think she cared. When instead, she told herself fiercely, she despised him. Let Bessie have him! She was welcome.

To think she had spent all this time mooning over such a person, losing weight and sleep, turning against her whole family, nursing a heart she had thought was broken, hoping against hope that it could be mended.

Driving home with Barry—the others had piled into the other car—warm and tired to the stage of snuggled relaxation, Gaynel spoke suddenly, breaking a long silence.

"Barry, do you still want to take that chance you spoke of once?"

Barry slackened the speed, though he had not been driving fast. He glanced at her. "Of course." He did not say any more. It was as though he wanted her to be sure of what she was saying.

"Remember what I said, Barry? That your requisites were so tempting I might break down because of them."

"I remember."

"She said, 'Then—if you still want me—the way things are—and knowing I'm terribly fond of you, Barry—I'll try to be everything you want me to be, into the bargain—and give you the answer you said you wanted.'"

He did not give her any answer; he was afraid for a moment he was not going to. But instead he slowed down even more, pulled to the side of the road, stopped the car.

"She said herself, with Barry's kisses on her lips—they were not now brief nor brotherly—and as she clung to him, that never again—from this moment—would she think of Fritz, or his kisses."

She would live up to the promise she had just given Barry.

"I had forgotten this breakfast nook was so cheerful," Emily was saying now. "I do enjoy it. It's only a beginning of my plans for the Simple Life."

"The Simple Life?" Was the next interim sprouting its first tiny leaves?

"Yes, dear," Emily helped herself to more scrambled eggs. "You should know. It was your young man—Frederick, isn't it clever of me to remember his name? He told us about it and I've been thinking ever since how terribly interesting it could be."

"But Mother," Gaynel interrupted, "you forget that Fritz?"

how odd she felt just at the mention of his name—"is no longer my young man. I just told you I am going to marry Barry. The first of May. I supposed that was what you wanted, too." She could not help a tinge of bitterness in this last.

"I supposed you and your young man—Fritz?—had had a lovers' quarrel," Emily said. She threw her daughter an arch glance, shook a painful finger. "The course of true love," you know, darling. You must remember that. Why, the night before your poor dear father and I were to be married poor dear Wilbert and I had a terrible quarrel. He said something rude that I thought I'd never be able to forgive him for, though of course I did! If I had it all to go through, again, I'd marry him again tomorrow."

"I am sure you would," Gaynel said.

"You know, darling," her mother said, "you told me you did not love Barry enough to marry him. You told me you loved this odd young man, though I'm sure as he said, he'd not seem so odd as one got to know him, and in spite of the way he talked to me that dreadful night. I was quite taken with him, really. And your mother would never want you, her own little girl, to marry anyone—no matter how fond of him or how much he could give her—unless she was sure he was the man she always would love. Marriage is much too serious, and sacred for that."

PAT slid into her chair just then. "I earned my first five bucks yesterday afternoon," she said. "Saw an ad in the morning paper, went down and lanced the job."

"Job?" Emily and Gaynel both gasped.

Pat was enjoying the effect she had created, but she took her last swallow of chocolate, pushed back her chair. "Its possibilities are unlimited, practically." This was a quote from the man who had interviewed her. "No telling where it may lead, or how much money I'll make. The photographer said I'm a natural—the ad was for a model for commercial photographic display." Gosh! she was getting good! Those were the exact words she had clipped.

"A model!" Emily said. The pained expression crept into her pretty blue eyes.

"If it's part-time work," Gaynel began. But Pat threw them each a kiss, a laugh that lingered after her, and dashed on her way before there could be any denouncement of her plans.
